Introduction

It is very important that you take the time to read this entire leaflet, as it contains important information and instructions essential for your examination to be performed successfully.

What is a Barium Follow Through?

A Barium follow through is a special X-Ray study of the small bowel. The bowel does not show up very well on ordinary X-Ray pictures, therefore we will ask you to drink a white chalky liquid called “barium” to highlight the bowel, enabling us to produce clearer pictures.

Am I required to fast?

Yes, it is important that you do not eat or drink anything from midnight the night before your examination.

Important Information

If any of the following apply to you, please contact the X-Ray department:

- Have you had a bowel biopsy within one week of your appointment date?
- Are you or might you be pregnant?

To prevent X-Raying an unborn baby we will only perform this examination on women within 28 days of the first day of their last period (this only applies to women aged between 12 and 50 years old).

If you had your last period more than 28 days before the appointment date; please ring the X-Ray department for advice 01942 822398.

When you arrive at the hospital

Please follow the directions to the Radiology or X-Ray Department and report to the reception desk.

You will be shown to a private cubicle and given a gown to put on. You will be able to place your personal items in a basket that you will keep with you. If you want to bring your own dressing gown to wear over the top, that is fine.

What happens during the examination?

You will be taken into the X-Ray room and introduced to the Practitioner Radiographer/Consultant Radiologist.

You will be asked to drink some “barium” (white chalky liquid). A series of X-Ray pictures of your abdomen will be taken at timed intervals, with you either lying on your front or back.

You will be asked to sit outside the X-Ray room in between each picture and given another cup full of barium to drink.

Once the barium has reached the end of your small bowel, it will be necessary to take some more pictures whilst pressing on your abdomen in certain areas. This is to ensure that your entire small bowel has all been visualised.

Once the examination is complete, you are free to leave the department.

How long will it take?

This test can take a long time. Everybody’s bowel works differently, some slower or quicker than others, so be aware that you may be in the X-Ray department all morning, sometimes longer. (It may be a good idea to bring a good book or magazine to read).

Are there any risks or side effects?

Your stools may appear whiter in colour and may remain discoloured for the next day or two.

You are advised to eat a good high fibre diet including plenty of fruit and vegetables, and we do ask that you drink plenty of fluids (water, tea or fruit juice) for the next two days to ensure that you do not become constipated from the barium.

After the procedure, you will be given an aftercare information leaflet to take home with you.

When will I get the results?

The report will be sent to your consultant for your next clinic appointment, or if your GP referred you for the test, they should have the results in around 14 days.

Frequently asked questions

Can I take my medication?

Yes, with a small amount of water.

Can I eat and drink?

No, it is very important that you do not eat or drink anything from midnight the night before your examination.

Information for diabetic patients

We do try to book diabetic patients first thing onto a morning list to reduce the time you need to fast. It is probably a good idea to bring a sandwich and drink with you to have after your examination is complete.

If you begin to feel ill whilst fasting, you can have a few sips of a sugar glucose drink. If you would like further advice, you can ring the X-Ray Department on 01942 822398.

Where can I park my car?

You can park your car on the main RAEI hospital site and there is a charge, so bring some change with you.

We now have another car park available to patients on Freckleton Street, and there is a short walk (0.2 miles) up to the hospital from here.

The Government has recently introduced new guidance on the provision of free car parking for certain groups of hospital patients and visitors. This means that the following people are now eligible to receive free parking at our hospitals:

1. Disabled people holding a valid Blue Badge, to be displayed in windscreen of vehicle.
2. Frequent outpatient attendees, defined as those who are required to attend hospital for an appointment at least three times within a month for at least three months.
3. Parents or guardians of sick children staying overnight in the hospital.

Outpatients and parents/guardians outlined in points two and three need to request an exemption pass from the relevant ward manager or the security office and display this in their vehicle for the duration of their stay.

Ambulance Transport

If it is necessary for you to have ambulance transport and you live in the Wigan borough, please telephone 01942 482990 to arrange it. Please inform the ambulance depot that it is for a special X-Ray, and it is essential that you arrive on time.

If you do not live in the Wigan borough, please contact your GP to arrange your ambulance transport.

1. What are my options?
2. What are the positives and negatives of each option for me?
